Part 1 Program Description

1. Background and Purpose

Peer-Delivered Services (PDS) are a vital part of health care transformation and benefit Oregonians with Substance Use Disorder (SUD), their families and communities. Peer-delivered services and peer-run organizations (PRO) that are Recovery Centers (as defined below) are essential to link those living with behavioral health conditions to behavioral health services. PDS are an instrumental tool in reforming the health care system to support recovery and wellness within a recovery-oriented system of care (ROSC).

Recipient will develop the capacity to provide enhanced PDS and technical assistance and training for Peer Delivered Services in SUD Recovery. The technical assistance will be provided to regional partners, including behavioral health service programs, health professionals, Community Mental Health Programs (CMHP) or Local Mental Health Authority (LPHA), Coordinated Care Organizations (CCO), interested consumers, family members, youth (under 17 years) and young adults (18 to 25), and those in recovery from mental health disorders, substance use disorders, and problem gambling within their respective service area.

OHA believes the SUD PDS Facilitating Centers (as defined below) will help promote best practices. PDS are available for the diverse members of the recovering communities. The Facilitating Centers will identify and develop specialized best practices and deliver specialized training and technical assistance for underserved and over represented populations.

Research has demonstrated that PDS improve outcomes. Examples of improved outcomes are as follows:

- When peers are part of hospital-based or residential care, the results include shortened lengths of stay, decreased frequency of admissions, and lower overall future treatment costs,
- When PDS are integrated into behavioral health care treatment teams, patients show favorable results in both health outcomes and cost savings,
- For people diagnosed with both mental illness and substance use disorders, peer-led interventions have shown to significantly reduce substance use, symptoms of emotional distress or disorders, and crisis events,

- PDS programs have shown to increase patients' participation in their treatment; resulting in better healing outcomes and greater levels of empowerment and,
- PDS emphasize developing and living a healthy, recovery-oriented lifestyle. This focus on wellness helps people remain in recovery and in the communities of their choice.

The goal of this Agreement is to enable Recipient to develop Facilitating Centers that will serve as “mentor sites” which will provide ongoing technical assistance and training for programs providing PDS, PRO and Recovery Centers. Facilitating Centers will provide structure and support for developing and sustaining programs providing PDS in substance use disorder recovery, PROs and Recovery Centers. People in recovery will be involved in every aspect of program design and implementation, creating opportunity for peer delivered services regionally, and statewide, and allowing for greater access to services. Quality PDS statewide are essential for people with substance use disorders.

In performing Program activities below, Recipient must implement industry-recognized standards of best practices.

7. Contribution.

If any third party makes any claim or brings any action, suit or proceeding alleging a tort as now or hereafter defined in ORS 30.260 ("Third Party Claim") against a party (the "Notified Party") with respect to which the other party ("Other Party") may have liability, the Notified Party must promptly notify the Other Party in writing of the Third Party Claim and deliver to the Other Party a copy of the claim, process, and all legal pleadings with respect to the Third Party Claim. Either party is entitled to participate in the defense of a Third Party Claim, and to defend a Third Party Claim with counsel of its own choosing. Receipt by the Other Party of the notice and copies required in this paragraph and meaningful opportunity for the Other Party to participate in the investigation, defense and settlement of the Third Party Claim with counsel of its own choosing are conditions precedent to the Other Party's liability with respect to the Third Party Claim.

With respect to a Third Party Claim for which the State is jointly liable with the Recipient (or would be if joined in the Third Party Claim), the State shall contribute to the amount of expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred and paid or payable by the Recipient in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of the State on the one hand and of the Recipient on the other hand in connection with the events which resulted in such expenses, judgments, fines or settlement amounts, as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the State on the one hand and of the Recipient on the other hand shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent the circumstances resulting in such expenses, judgments, fines or settlement amounts. The State's contribution amount in any instance is capped to the same extent it would have been capped under Oregon law if the State had sole liability in the proceeding.

It is the specific intention of the parties that the Indemnitee shall, in all instances, except for Claims arising solely from the negligent or willful acts or omissions of the Indemnitee, be indemnified by the contractor from and against any and all Claims.
